When I Think of You . . .

I remember all the good times you were there for me.
I miss the times we once had, When life
was good and life was bad.
But through all the years
You've stood by me when times were tough.
You were there to give your help and love.
And now today I clearly see
I need you and you need me.
I love you so much till words can't explain.
I wish you were here to ease my pain, and comfort me through the storm and rain.
But now its time to rest, and relieve yourself of all your stress.
Go home and try not to look baek, we'll be okay I promise you that.

I LOVE YOU DADDY
