Final Arrangements:

Simpson Family Mortuary: Los Angeles, CA
Thornton Funeral Home: Hazlehurst,GA

Internment:

Philadelphia Cemetery

Order of Service

Friday, July 17, 2009 at 11:00 A.M..
Tallahassee Missionary Baptist Church
Rev. Robert Davis, Pastor

Rev. Dr. Lewis E. Logan II, Officiate
Ruach Christian Community Fellowship,
Los Angeles

Musical Prelude

Processional	Ministers and Family
Ministry in Song	Felicia Akuamoah
Invocation	Rev. George Moore, Sr.
Scripture	Rev. Stanford L. Anderson, I

Old Testament: Psalm 121
New Testament: 2 Timothy 4:5-8

Ministry in Song	Shaun Taylor
Reflections	Friends and Family
Ministry in Song	Felicia Akuamoah
The Eulogy	Rev. Dr. Lewis E. Logan, II

Parting View/Recessional

Simply stated - To know her was to love her, and to have been blessed. Mae's bright eyes and lovely smile gave just a hint of who she was. It is the spirit that lived behind those eyes that captured the hearts of those who were blessed to have known her.

Mae was a lover of God, a lover of people, a lover of nature, a lover of knowledge, a lover of life... and she inspired the same in others. One needed only to have spoken with her for a few moments, to have been taken with her obvious intelligence and her passion for life.

Mae Moss also possessed a quick wit and a marvelous sense of humor that could disarm, and make even the most petulant of persons smile. It was this beautiful combination of qualities that put people completely at ease when they met her, and made them feel as if they'd known her forever.

A genuinely kind and tender-hearted person, and truly intergenerational in her influence, Mae inspired both young and old to live passionately and compassionately. By reaching out to others, uniquely and positively touching their lives, she stimulated the same in them. A life-long learner herself, Mae actively encouraged others to continuously seek out opportunities to grow, and to be everything that God wanted them to be.

Mae encouraged growth. Whether it was a plant or a person, her presence caused one to thrive.

To know Mae Moss was to love her, and to have been blessed.

Mae Ola Moss was born on August 16, 1948 in Jeff Davis County, Georgia, to the union of Tommie Lee and Gladys Williams Moss. The second of four children, Mae was brought up in a loving and supportive household. Growing up, Mae was an inquisitive and delightful child, and a joy to be around.

She accepted Jesus Christ as her Lord and Savior, and was a life-long member of Tallahassee Missionary Baptist Church, in Hazlehurst, Georgia.

Mae attended and graduated from Hazlehurst High School, and then matriculated to Clark College where she further embraced her love of education. No matter what path Mae chose in her life, she always endeavored to sharpen her skills and aptitude. This determination to excel paid off when Mae received her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Psychology from Brewton-Parker College. Prior to her illness, Mae entertained plans to attend graduate school and further her capacity.

In November, 2004, Mae relocated to Los Angeles, California where she resided with her daughter, Sudonna and her son-in-love, Lewis until she departed this life on Saturday, July 11, 2009.

Having family is more precious than jewels, for they allow us to see our past, present, and future. The legacy of one's life is woven through those we love and the ones who love us: Her pride and joy, Sudonna Moss-Logan and Son-in-Love, Rev. Dr. Lewis Edward Logan, II; Grandchildren, Lewis Edward III, Asa Bomani Diop, and Jillique Marche`; Brother, Tommy Donald Moss and Sister-in-Love, Willena Smith Moss; Brother, John Hawley Moss, Sr. and Sister-in-Love, Bobbie Sanders Moss; Sister, Gloria Wilson and Brother-in-Love, Don Edwin Wilson, Sr.

Mae also leaves a beautiful assembly of aunts, uncles, great-aunts, great-uncles, nieces, nephews, grand-nieces, grand-nephews, as well as an array of treasured friends, a multitude of colleagues, and contemporaries who complete her legacy.

Acknowledgements:

The family would like to extend their deepest gratitude and appreciation to all who provided support and encouragement during this time of mourning.

Active Pallbearers:

Arthur Burford,
Mike Carter
Johnathan Hall, Jr.,
Wesley Morris
Bill Music,
Burtis Taylor

Honorary Pallbearers:

Each of you, who in your own special way added shared your friendship, added joy, or offered support throughout the life of Mae Ola Moss.